St. James Episcopal Church, Bedford, Pa.

BB H846

Said to be a reproduction of Sir Christopher Wren's chapel in London, the Episcopal church is an attractive example of Gothic architecture.

Thurs. P.M.

Will thought he would give me a nice trip with him this week on his calls. He haven't seen the sun yet, and had "mud" to day, so we decided to not go any further than here to night, on the Pennsylvania Pike. Hope conditions will be better when Will goes to Pittsburgh Monday. Sorry not to take you with me to see the beautiful scenery. Best wishes. Lena B.
